

Indianapolis Architecture Firms by Dana Ailer

The American Institute of Architects (AIA) is the leading professional organization for licensed architects. Membership in the AIA provides these architects access to cutting edge continuing education experiences and trade shows highlighting these new technologies and methods. Thanks to these opportunities, AIA members are considered to be the highest qualified professionals in the industry.

Indianapolis has more than 50 architecture design firms listed in the AIA directory. Their local chapter of the professional organization, AIA Indianapolis, http://www.aiaindiana.org/index.php?option=com\_content&view=category&layout=blog&id=94&Itemid=84 offers information about these firms, local projects, and initiatives.

Architura Corporation <http://www.archituracorp.com/> is one of these Indianapolis AIA member firms. Specializing in government building design including police stations, post offices, and schools, Architura offers clients architectural structural design services as well as master planning and cost estimating. Lynn Williamson lynn.williamson@archituracorp.com can answer any questions about Architura.

Specializing in green building urban planning, RATIO Architects <http://www.ratioarchitects.com/index.cfm> offers services in architecture, historic preservation, interior design, and landscape architecture. This AIA member firm is the group of designers behind The Dinosphere at The Children's Museum of Indianapolis.

A leader in sustainable residential design, 20 Twenty Design Build Group <http://20twentydesignbuild.com/> seeks to combine the charm of historic homes with the newest technologies and amenities for today's family. Utilizing green technologies with open floor plans, 20 Twenty strives to provide well designed, efficient homes for an affordable price.
